

YELLOW POTION #9

(Tune: Love Potion #9)

Revised Lyrics © Paul Finkleman

Went to a movie just the other night.
I ordered popcorn, then much to my fright,
Counter-girl says "That comes to $7.49,
and would you like it covered with...Yellow Potion #9?"

I told her I preferred my popcorn with real butter, not some mystery mix.
She said "Sir, I'm sorry," and she pointed to the sign that said: 'We serve popcorn with...Yellow Potion #9.'

She turned around and gave my bag of popcorn a squirt.
I said "I'd rather have it smothered in dirt (than with) some concoction that Dow Chemical had conjured."
I held my nose, I closed my eyes.... then things got blurred!

The manager came by in seconds flat.
He said "I'm sorry, sir. We can't do that!
We've stopped using butter and we watched our profits climb.
It's much cheaper when we use...Yellow Potion #9." -----> (Instrumental)

I told him I preferred my popcorn with real butter, not some mystery mix.
He said "Sir, I'm sorry," and he pointed to the sign that said: 'We serve popcorn with...Yellow Potion #9.'

I said I wanted butter and I wanted it now.
I didn't want it from the lab, but straight from the cow.
Beads of sweat appeared upon the manager's brow.
I stopped... and re - a - lized I'd missed my movie by now!

Read in the paper just the other day:
A scientist down in the U.S.A.
found a cure for hemorrhoids you rub on your behind.
The ointment's main ingredient: Yellow Potion #9.
